Dear Moose,

First of all I want to wish a real sweet girl all the luck and success in the world. I hope you'll always remember all the fun we've had together, I know I'll always remember it.

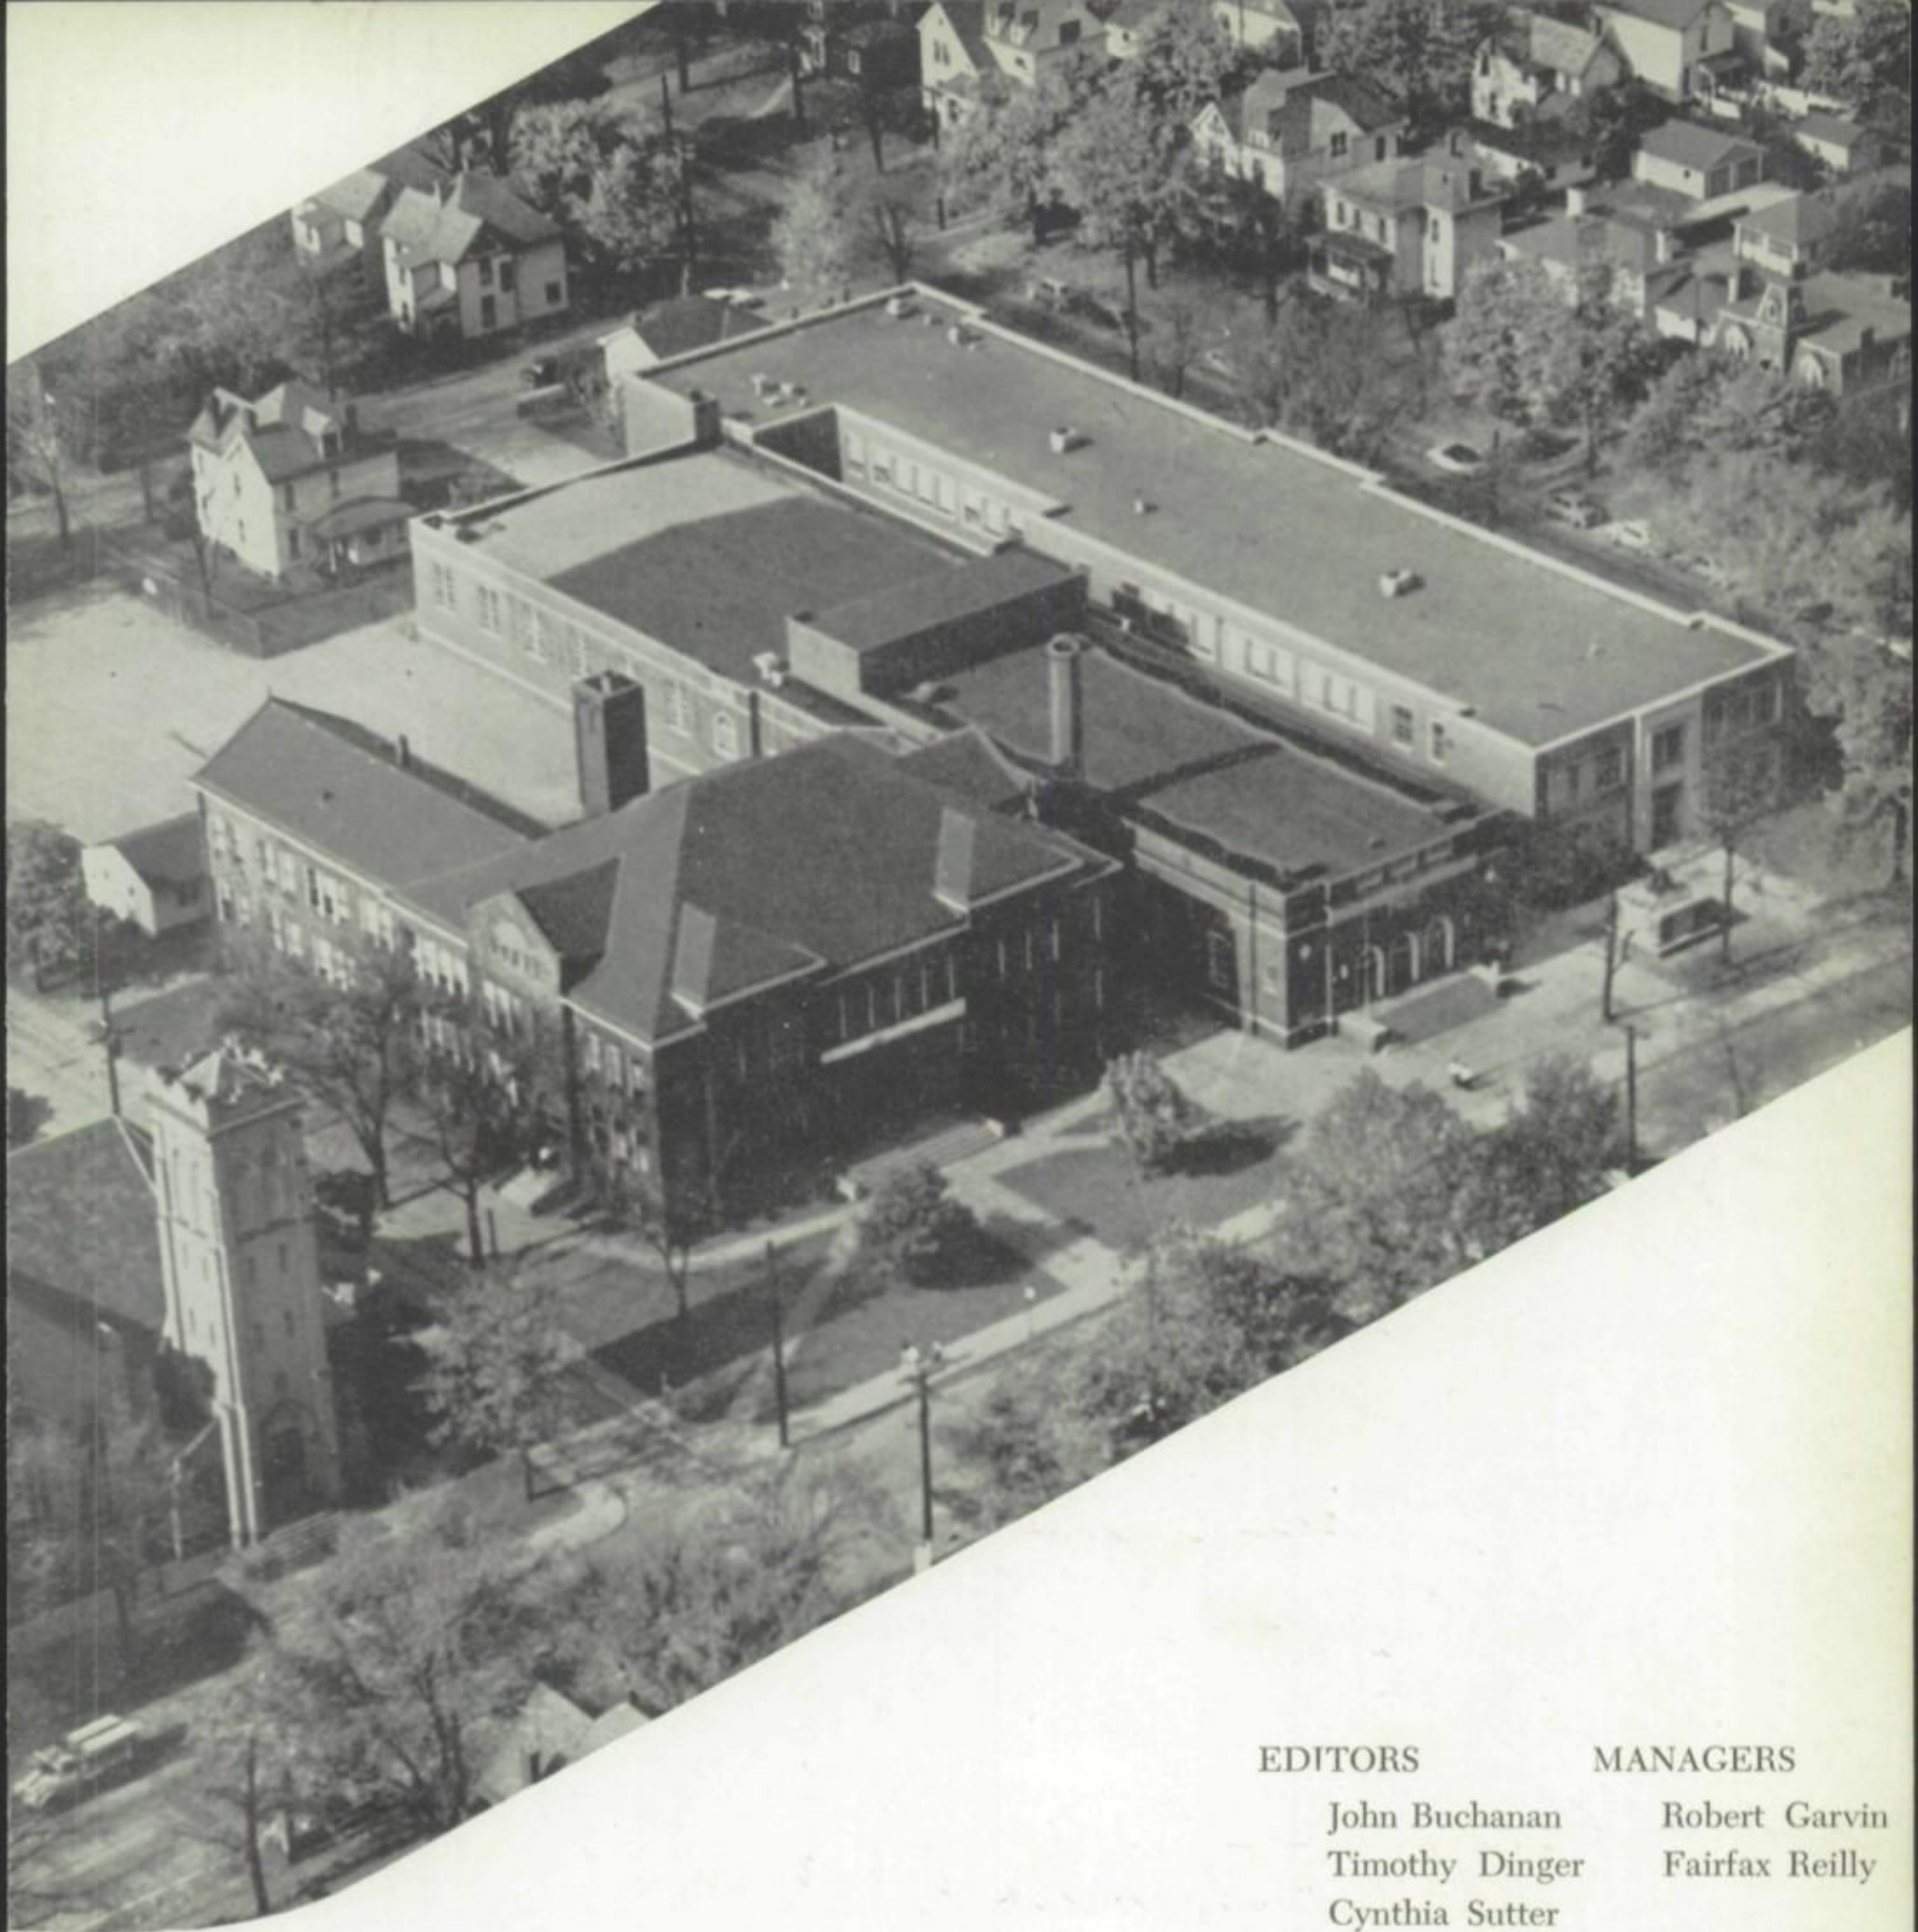

Remember when we had that Christmas talent show and Deanne, Hollenbaugh, you & me sang the howlegged cowboy & me on brooms. That was a riot.

Remember at Ditch's slumber party when we went down to the high & went in. Then when we were down street to get cokes & when walking home & I was mad & I'd laugh & then I'd laugh & we had our cokes & I had weak.

Remember the fights we had & this last one was really bad, I'm glad we're friends again.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Remember all the good times in Home-Ec class when we were making our skirts. Remember all the fun we had in Recreation. I hope we have just as much fun next year. Stay as nice as you are and you'll go far. Always remember the notes we kids had together.

Dear Mary-Jane,

It's always good luck and success, but I'm still wishing it to you. I'd also like to wish you all the love, happiness and best of health the world has to offer. I hope you'll remember all the good times we had together. Especially ~~at~~ ^{at your} ~~your~~ ^{party} when we were trying to get Jody to sleep. Then there's the time that I had you kids at my house. I don't think I was ever more scared when that car pulled down our driveway. Remember when we used to have the Yak Pal at the Inn and we got smoked out. Remember when we had our first meeting of the Seward Club at Gedsys house. That was a riot.

To our good friend

In appreciation and gratitude for all her efforts, we dedicate the Shingas of 1957 to Miss Catharine Esenwein, our senior English teacher. Remember on Monday night when we would make it our duty to be sitting in front of Bill McIntyre at the show. Yes, I'm sure glad that when you moved from Canada that they put you in 8/A, or my school year would have been pretty dull. Once again I like to ~~off~~ wish you all the luck in the world.

MRS. ANNE T. FRYE

Senior class sponsor

May we express our sincere appreciation to Mrs. Anne Frye, our class sponsor. Without her able assistance our class could not have made such a wonderful record in candy sales. She supplied the guiding hand when the time came for the class to make the important plans for our banquet and dance. There is much work to be done in arranging for commencement invitations, name cards and thank you notes, and Mrs. Frye did more than her share of it. For all this help we are deeply grateful. The class of 1957 will long remember her for her leadership, inspiration and help in making this year the most successful of all for our class.

Class of '57

The class of 1957 cannot fully express its appreciation to Mr. William W. Paterick for his tireless efforts as adviser in the production of the 1957 Shingas. His advice, founded on years of experience, prevented us from making mistakes, and he urged us on when, because of our procrastination, it looked as if the Shingas might not appear on schedule.

Most of the class do not realize what a tremendous task it is to co-ordinate all efforts in planning, selling, editing and producing a Shingas. Those of us who have worked closely with these problems now have a better appreciation of the tasks involved. Without his guidance, counsel and untiring efforts we could not have produced our SHINGAS for 1957. We really mean it when we say—"Thank you sincerely, Mr. Paterick".

MR. WILLIAM W. PATERICK

Shingas Adviser

Dear Mary Jane,

~~Remembered~~ all of the crazy times we had together. Especially the time when we went to see Friendly Persuasion and that old Lady who sat in front of us. I hope you always consider me a link in your chain of friendship. I know you'll go far in this world with your fine personality & sweet disposition.

Don't ever forget the time at the Library when I had to go to the b.v. & Brubaker was there. (That was so funny.) We've had so much fun this year and I hope we land in the same home room next year. I wish you all the luck in the world in good old Beaver High School. (Don't give Larry & the rest of the boys a hard time.)

Superintendent
Beaver Area Schools

MISS RUTH JOHNSON
Secretary to Superintendent

We would like to express our appreciation to Dr. McMILLAN for his continued interest in the school system and his determined efforts to secure more adequate building facilities and better education for the students of the Beaver Area. Our thanks are also extended to Miss Ruth Johnson, secretary, for handling the financial accounts for our class.

We are also grateful for the services of the business manager, Mr. McClements, and his secretary, Miss Virginia Croyle. They perform the unenviable task of keeping the accounts for the school district accurate and complete as well as the many other jobs which necessitate the expenditure of money during the year.

MR. CHARLES S. LINN

Principal
Beaver Area Senior High School

To our principal, Mr. Linn, we extend our sincere thanks for the help he has given us in the past year. He has performed his many administrative duties and still found time to take a personal interest in each of the students. We are grateful also to his secretary, Mrs. Grove and clerk, Mrs. Williams, for their contribution to the smooth running of the school.

We would like to express our appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Cook, our guidance director. Her job is hard to define or measure, but we feel sure that no student will graduate from this school who has not been helped in some way through her efforts.

In Memoriam

Martin Elmer Heid, Jr.

"And ever has it been said that love knows not its own depth until the hour of separation." It was a great shock to all of us to learn of the sudden and tragic death of our friend and classmate, Martin Elmer Heid, Jr.

"Marty" attended the Vanport Elementary School and entered high school in 1953, as a freshman. He was a quiet boy. His main interest was athletics. Through constant effort he overcame many obstacles and was on his way toward becoming a versatile athlete. He possessed qualities of patience, humility, and ambition which won the admiration of everyone who knew him. Although we feel a great sense of loss at his going, we are left with the memory of one who courageously faced life with a quiet determination to succeed.

never forget all the fun we had together. Remember the day you didn't bother to put on your shoes. Remember the day we bought our S tops and those: Be I mean mate for Mary Jane never forget dear "Frets" the day and "Pete" the dinosaur. Remember when Frank pushed me down and Larry's brother put dirt on me. I'll never how long I took to make my home C.C. shirt. I'll always remember the Wild

Cat. I've never been on but at the picnic I'll go on with you. Always remember the good times you had with Larry this past year. Always remember Terry & pooner, Tom & Russell, Ted and of course Larry.
Always remember your dear lover who made you cry for weeks but that's alright. Tim Williams and remember you and you'll remember

The Shingas is like an iceberg. The part of an iceberg that shows above water is only a tiny fraction of the total volume. The Shingas, as you receive it, is only a hint of the time and effort that went into its making.

In the first place, it takes planning and organization to make such an involved operation run smoothly (or almost smoothly). The editors, John Buchanan, Tim Dinger, and Cynthia Sutter, performed this function with the advice and assistance of Mr. Paterick. They also did any jobs that couldn't be delegated to other members of the staff.

After the pictures were taken, the photography staff went to work. They trimmed the pictures, pasted them in panels, and identified them. The copywriters scoured the school asking questions and taking notes. They covered all of the many organizations, activities, and athletic events, as well as writing the class chronology and other special features. Many more people helped in typing and proofreading the copy. After designing the division pages, the art staff sketched them and enlarged them for reproduction by the engraver.

All the production work would be useless if the book were not sold. It is the responsibility of the business staff to see that it is. Under the direction of Bob Garvin and Pat Reilly, the "barefoot boys" of the Shingas Skit, they planned and carried out the sales campaign, including publicity, selling and distribution.

The combined talent and effort of the entire staff are needed to produce a good yearbook. We hope the Shingas for 1957 will reflect the personality of our class and the spirit of wholehearted co-operation that has gone into its making.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Patrick.

The Student Council, revamped this year, has been active in school and community. Notable among the community projects was the baby sitting pool—conducted to permit more mothers to vote on election day. Another project was held February 16 in conjunction with the P. T. A. This was the "Winter Whirl" conducted as a money making venture in which games, records, white elephants were collected and sold. This was climaxed by a delicious dinner. Other activities benefiting the community included, the Christmas Nativity scene, the March of Dimes Campaign, and the collection of clothing for National Clothing Week.

Throughout the year, the student council handled its usual complement of tasks in an efficient manner. Hall monitoring, locker inspection, sale of candy at basketball games, and supplying milk to competing teams were some of the more important duties.

Several constructive changes in the composition and conduct of the council were made. The president was elected in March in order to give him time to learn his duties and make plans for the following year. In addition to presiding over council meetings, he alternated with the senior class president in conducting opening exercises at assemblies. While the student council cannot be considered a legislative body, it has been called upon to consider and make recommendations regarding school policy as it applies directly to the conduct of the student body.

Under the capable direction of Miss Ruth Fox the adviser and its officers, Al Bennett, president; Sally Davis, vice president; and Abbie Lang, secretary-treasurer, the student council has made its presence felt. With the co-operation of the student body, and the experience gained this year, next year's council should show even greater improvement.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

SEATED—Miss Esenwein, adviser, J. Buchanan, A. Bennett, P. Reilly, J. Williams, D. Schermerhorn, O. Seaburn, M. Hutchinson, J. Potter, J. Stevenson. STANDING—N. Purdum, J. Stout, R. Holt, S. "To create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students"—so reads the eighth handbook of the National Honor Society of secondary schools. The Alpha chapter was constituted in Beaver Area High School many years ago to foster these worthy ideals.

Election into the society is conducted twice each year. In the spring five percent of the junior class may be selected and during the following year an additional ten percent may be inducted.

Meeting on occasion to renew their obligations as good members of the society, they also find time for a little fun and recreation. On one such occasion the group, accompanied by Miss Cathryne Esenwein, sojourned to Pittsburgh to see the movie "Oklahoma" at the Nixon Theater.

The student council, on the recommendation of the N. H. S. and acting in the best interests of the student body, adopted several resolutions designed to raise the standards for membership in the society. The first of these stated that a failing final grade in any major or minor subject would automatically exclude any student from consideration. The second supplemented the first by adding that "to receive a 'D' grade (final average) in any major subject during the ninth, tenth or eleventh year would make any student ineligible for election to the society." The third, in the form of a recommendation, was that elections to the N. H. S., as presently conducted, were to be continued. In line with these resolutions sixteen seniors, representing ten percent of the class were inducted into the society in the spring.

Miss Cathryne Esenwein sponsors the Alpha Chapter, Jane Stevenson is its president and Jane Potter its secretary. John Grad, also a member, was absent when the picture was taken.

The Presidents Council, instituted many years ago, is composed of the leaders of all school activities and organizations. Editors of the Shingas and Echo, captains of the athletic teams, class, club and organization presidents show it to represent a wide and varied extra-curricular program in our school. Coordinating the efforts of all such activities as well as attempting to eliminate overlapping of times, meetings and objectives is designed as its primary task. It may also serve as a sounding board for student reactions and opinions toward the overall activity program.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles S. Linn, the principal, the group meets on occasion to think about, discuss, and perhaps make recommendations concerning schedule arrangements, courses of study, coordination of activities and even the programs and accomplishments of the various organizations.

While membership is not limited in the presidents council to seniors, it is understandable that most of the leaders come from that group. With the years of participation in the activities, plus this recognized leadership, this organization could be outstanding in its representation of the student body and capable of making fine recommendations toward the extra-curricular activity program, in school or out.

Any senior interested in making teaching his career is invited to join the Future Teachers Club which has recently become known officially as the Charles S. Linn Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. The club, under the direction of Mrs. Beulah V. Cook, has three main purposes—first, to acquaint its members with the teaching profession; second, to help the prospective teachers select their colleges; and finally, to give the future teachers some actual experience in instructing pupils by letting them do occasional substitute teaching. The Future Teachers' outstanding activities this year have been practice-teaching and visiting various educational institutions for observation. The following officers were elected to lead the group: Sandy Merriman, president; Dianne Schermerhorn, vice-president; Nancy Purdum, secretary; and Carol Gilleland, treasurer.

Girls in our school who think they may like to enter the field of nursing have an excellent opportunity to find out whether or not this is the career for them. The Future Nurses Club, very capably co-sponsored by Miss Ruth Fisher and Mrs. Irene Benner, fulfills this need. Members of this very active club are acquainted with the nursing profession, and are given assistance in choosing their schools of nursing. For this purpose they have had a representative from the Western Pennsylvania Hospital Council speak to them and have made a field trip to the University of Pittsburgh. Ever thoughtful of others, the Future Nurses made centerpieces and napkin-holders for the Beaver County Hospital and Home as their Christmas project. Other activities include, two more field trips and a study of the vocational opportunities for nurses in mental hospitals, the armed forces, and industry. The officers for this year were: Donna Equals, president; Patti Pitini, vice-president; and Bonnis Isles, secretary-treasurer.

The sophomores taking biology are in the Science and Nature Study Club and their meetings are planned to offer members interesting films and discussions. Several of the films have dealt with skiing, fishing, and the history of Grand Canyon. In March they spent a day at Pittsburgh's Buhl Planetarium where they craned their necks in the domed theater to see "Tour of the Galaxies." A few members even fell asleep in the dark! An even bigger day was spent in April at the Carnegie Museum, Highland Park Zoo, and spring flower show. A weiner roast was planned and held in May. Maybe the students were able to recognize the kinds of insects pestering them during their picnic. Mr. Rogers, the biology instructor, is sponsor of this club. His officers this year were Barry Smalstig, president; Steve Ratey, vice-president; Pat Harty, secretary; and Jerry Callagan, treasurer.

Juniors taking chemistry and seniors taking physics comprise the high school's Senior Science Club. Mr. Reber, the sponsor of this club, is constantly threatening to eat the refreshments by himself if too few students attend the meetings. He very seldom has to eat and drink in excess though, for the science meetings are well attended. Food is not their only favorable attraction. Each meeting is well planned to offer education and interest to the members. It is unusual, and also admirable, that most or all of the meetings are presented by the students themselves, giving them valuable experience. Two of the meetings this year were on titanium and alcohol. By the way, it was rumored that C_2H_5-OH was served at the latter meeting mentioned. It wasn't, but cider was.

The officers this year have been Pat Reilly, president; Calvin Dunlap, vice president; Marie Hutchinson, secretary; and Charles DeWitt, treasurer.

Bobcats' Echo

"Hey! That sounds like something we could use in the Echo." We've heard these words often this year. The staff members of the Bobcats' Echo were constantly alert, trying to produce a magazine that would reflect the life of our students, both in and out of school. With Roberta Holt as editor and Mr. Hopkins as adviser they published a lively and interesting issue every six weeks. They also edited a column "School News" for the Beaver Valley Times.

Camera Club

"That's it. Just hold that pose!" The members of the Camera Club are at work again. Any sport, assembly program, play, or dance brings activity from the school shutterbugs. Through their efforts, we have wonderful souvenirs of important events, which will be even more valuable to us in future years. Another service they performed was the filming of the football games. The officers were: Bob Evans, president; Dave Andresen, vice-president; and Jan McMillen, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Cantelmi, adviser.

Spanish Club

"Carramba! Que pasa?" Probably another meeting of the Spanish-speaking members of our student body. The club is open to all students of first and second year Spanish. At their monthly meetings they play Spanish games, view films of Mexico, South America, and Spain, and study the customs of our neighbors, south of the border. Sponsored by Senorita Lawson, their officers are: Senor Joe Sailer, president; Senor Calvin Dunlap, vice-president; Senorita Jane Potter, secretary; and Senorita Kitty Binkowski, treasurer.

Bobcat Club

"Shall we dance?" The members of the Bobcat Club will answer with an enthusiastic "Yes!" One of our school's largest organizations in terms of membership, the Bobcat Club, sponsors dances after all the home basketball games on Fridays, as well as, two semi-formal dances—the Christmas Dance and the Basketball Dance. Mr. Rogers, the sponsor of the club, was assisted by the following officers: Mary Ann Karns, president; Nancy Benner, vice-president; Janet McCleery, secretary; and Dick Mills, treasurer.

This year, the Alpha's conducted their annual mum sale for the Rochester football game and took part in the Muscular Dystrophy drive. In the Thanksgiving assembly, sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y, the speaker was Reverend Carl Soderburg. At Christmas time, they collected and wrapped gifts for a needy family. In the spring they held a membership drive, a Mother's Day program and the election and installation of their new officers.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Casteel, is an organization designed especially for the athletic-minded girls in tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. This year the club, consisting of 180 members, sponsored a program of intra-mural sports, the first of which was a basketball tournament, which was followed by a volleyball tournament. Their final activity was a Fun Night. The officers of the G. A. A. are: President, Betty Madden; Vice-President, Annette Knott; Secretary, Kay Faller; and Treasurer, Linda Kiernan.

The eight seniors and seven juniors in the club assist in gym classes by taking roll, leading warm-up exercises, and checking the dressing room. This year they have attended play days in Aliquippa and Beaver Falls, where they met with leaders from other schools in the county. An enthusiastic group of freshman and sophomore boys comprise Beaver's Hi-Y, one of the organizations under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. This year's group, sponsored by Mr. George Maravich, was quite interested in athletics; they held bowling and basketball tournaments and saw a film on the life of Babe Ruth. Officers of the club were: Chuck Snitger, president; Pritt Vesilind, vice-president; Larry Shue, secretary; Bill Rose, treasurer; and Bob John, chaplain.

The Library Club is a service club of the school. The library functions smoothly and efficiently with the help of the members. Each student librarian must work at least two periods a week in the library. The student librarian may also give suggestions for new books.

Miss Grossman, the librarian, is the sponsor of the club and the officers are: president, Judy McCandless; vice-president, Mary Jane Sell; and secretary-treasurer, Joanne Ruehl.

Orchestra

The orchestra, consisting of 38 members, was reorganized this year following the football season. Despite the fact that the instrumentation was insufficient in certain respects, the members were active and enthusiastic in their rehearsals and put on a fine performance in the annual music festival held in the spring. Mr. Marietta, the director, is hoping for better balance and a larger ensemble as younger players advance from the junior high school classes in instrumental music.

Swing Band

"Blues," "Hit Tunes," and old favorites are the specialties of Beaver High School's swing band. These eighteen musicians, under the direction of Mr. Marietta, are well-known locally for their out-standing performances. They played for many school functions, among them the class plays, assemblies, the Freshman Dance, the Football Dance, and Band Banquet. Outside of school, they performed in the Junior Woman's Club spring programs and at a Slippery Rock College Dance.

Mixed and Girls Chorus

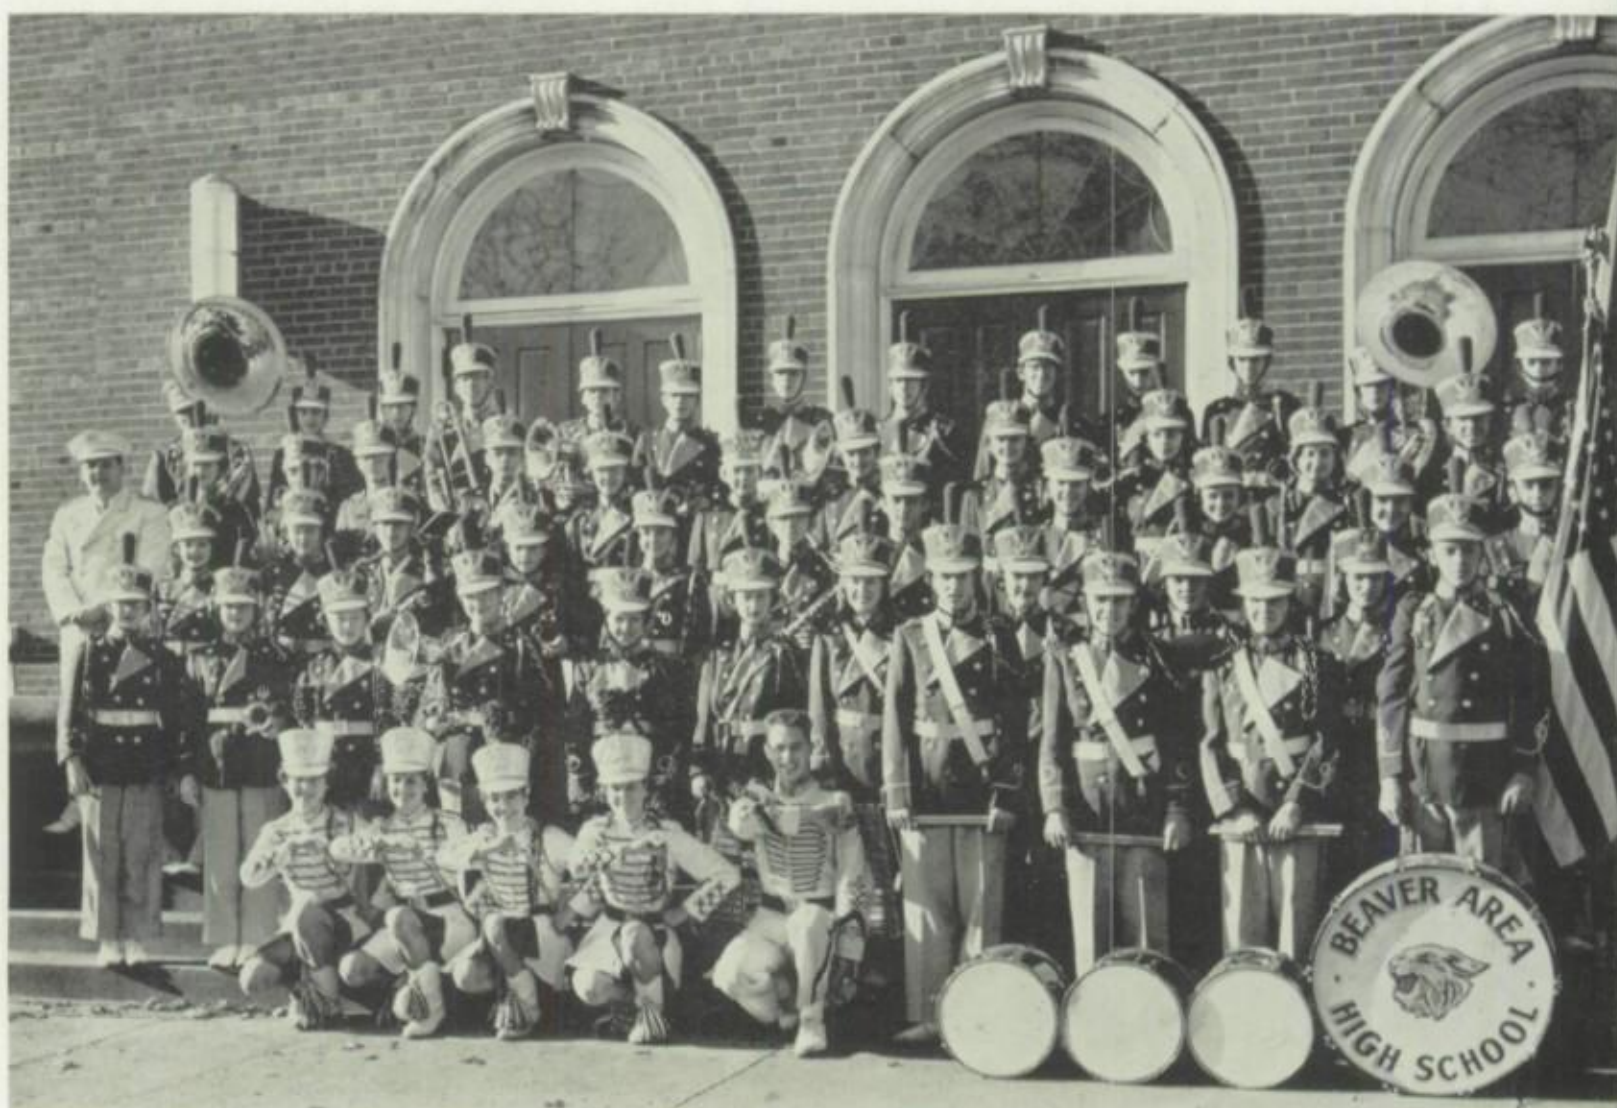

The Mixed Chorus and Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Mr. B. Nelson Maurer, meet every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. There are sixty members in the Mixed Chorus and fifty-two in the Girls' Chorus. This year's Mixed Chorus has sung for the County School Board Directors, the Christmas Assembly, and the Spring Choral Festival. Two smaller groups, a girl's octette and a smaller mixed chorus called the "Echo Chorus" have been organized to sing for various organizations. Those who represented Beaver at Midwestern District Chorus this year are: Kay Faller, Carol Gilleland, Olivia Seaburn, Lois Shafer, Jane Stevenson, Jean Stout, Kenny Collins, Albert McAllister, and Jons Olsson. Accompanists for the Mixed Chorus are: Nancy Purdum, Olivia Seaburn, Pat Jordan, and Janice Logan, and for the Girls' Chorus: Marvie Beglin, Lee Herald, Joy Springer, and Patsy Stone.

"Lift those feet." "My time is your time." "Do it again until you can do it right." These are familiar words to the 112 members of the Beaver Area High School Band. Under the direction of Mr. Leslie Marietta, in 1956-57 the band was the largest in the history of our school. Intricate, unusual half-time shows, high-stepping, and snappy music made each member proud to be a part of the organization.

After football season, the musicians settled down to preparation for their concert on March 1. The season, including a parade at Kennywood Park, pep meetings, and other local and county parades, offered good times and fellowship as well as hard work for the high-steppers of Beaver High. Representatives to Mid-West Band were Sara Jane Cooke, Curt Dean, Jay Gourley, Marie Hutchinson, Judy Wilson, and Aarne Vesilind.

Dear Mary Jane,

Lots of luck in 9th grade and on up. (if you get that far) Remember all the fun we've had and hope we can have just as much next year. I've decided to give you back half of Skippy because you have been so unhappy. Here's hoping you will flunk so I can be in your room sometime. It would be more likely for me to skip a grade though.

I hope we can babysit together again because you need someone to help you with Lisa.

Truthfully you're a nice friend and hope we can always be friends. Hope you and Larry last a while. You go sweet together

Love and luck in your future years. Hope you have fun next year in 9th grade.

Love,
Margie.

BEAVER 12GROVE CITY 6

Beaver opened the football season of 1956 by playing host to Grove City. The Bobcats' attack consisted mainly of ground plays. But two spectacular passes thrown by quarterback Anthony Catanese were high lights of the game. Halfback Fred Bruce caught the first pass on the one yard line and fell over the goal for the first of two six-pointers. End Tom Koss snagged the second pass on the two yard line and plunged over for the second touchdown.

BEAVER 14MOON 0

The newly named Moon High School team played the Bobcats in a game marred by penalties. Numerous T-D's were called back. Fred Bruce brilliantly returned a punt 29 yards to set the stage for John Grad who scored the first touchdown and the first extra point. Catanese fired in a 40 yard pass to end Tom Koss who fell over the goal after the catch. Grad again scored the extra point. Beaver's sharp defense kept Moon High scoreless.

BEAVER 12MIDLAND 14

Beaver played a tough game with Midland which ended with the Bobcats on the short end of the score. A kickoff returned by Midland's Beresic was the highlight of the game. Beaver's failure to score the two extra points proved to be the margin of defeat. Wet grounds and the hard-playing Midland team kept the Bobcats from any further scoring chances.

BEAVER 33HOPEWELL 7

A sparkling fourth quarter helped Beaver's Bobcats get revenge on the Hopewell Vikings at Gypsy Glen Field. Beavers ironclad defense kept Hopewell in check during the entire game. The Bobcat's backfield ran wild with Grad scoring 2 touch downs, Blose 2, and Shaw 1. Gordon kicked 3 extra points. Beaver's forward wall held the Vikings to 24 yards rushing. The "wall" consisted of Tom Staub, Bard Bloom, Rod Bear, Dick Mills, and Ron Shaffer.

BEAVER 25NEW BRIGHTON 6

Since the Lions were the only local Class A title contender, the victory of the Bobcats was doubly rewarding. Because of fumbling by the Bobcats in the first quarter, the outcome seemed doubtful at first. Later Fred Bruce was able to score 3 of the 4 Beaver touchdowns and give the Bobcats an easy victory over the New Brighton eleven. Bruce sprinted 17 yards, 5 yards, and received a pass from Bob Shaw for his three T-D's. Jim Blose scored the fourth touchdown.

BEAVER 21FREEDOM 0

Beaver's rambling Bobcats traveled to Freedom for an easy victory. They were led by halfback, Jim Blose, who scored all three T-D's. Beavers big forward wall was an important factor in the outcome as they opened holes big enough for the proverbial truck to go through. They were just as good on defense. John Grad added all 3 extra points as he plunged over the center of the line.

BEAVER 6MONACA 7

The Bobcats lost a close thriller to Monaca on the winners home field. Since the field was so wet, neither team was able to get much of a drive started. Grad scored the only Beaver T-D. Bruce made an unbelievable leaping catch of a 29 yard toss by Catanese and brought the stands to their feet. This was the play of the game. Once again, failure to score the extra point cost Beaver at least a tie.

BEAVER 13CORAOPOLIS 7

Beaver traveled to Cory and dumped another Class A title contender from the ranks of the undefeated. With rain hampering the teams, Beaver blocked a punt and Jim Blose scored the touchdown after several plays. The second T-D came on a pass from Catanese to McCermott. The play covered 58 yards. Grad added the extra point.

BEAVER 20ROCHESTER 0

Beaver played their last game with another good Ram club from Rochester. In the battle for the traditional "Old Oaken Bucket," our Bobcats were out not only to win it back, but to present Mr. Kane, (who had announced his retirement as head coach) with his third victory over Rocky during his years as coach in Beaver.

Defense and self-made breaks helped Beaver score their fine victory. Bruce scored 2 T-D's, and Blose scored the third and coupling those with a solid defense, the "Old Oaken Bucket" came back to a rest for a year in the Beaver Area High Trophy Case.

N. Stammelbach, B. Steeb, D. Hoegle, J. Mathews, B. Connor, B. Madden.

The cheerleaders are selected in their sophomore year by several members of the faculty. They are sponsored by Mrs. Casteel, who helps train the girls for the tryouts. This year they received new uniforms, maroon corduroy dresses trimmed in gray, which were made for them by Mrs. Mathews. We think our cheerleaders have done a wonderful job of stimulating school spirit at the games and pep meetings.

Kay Lewis Award

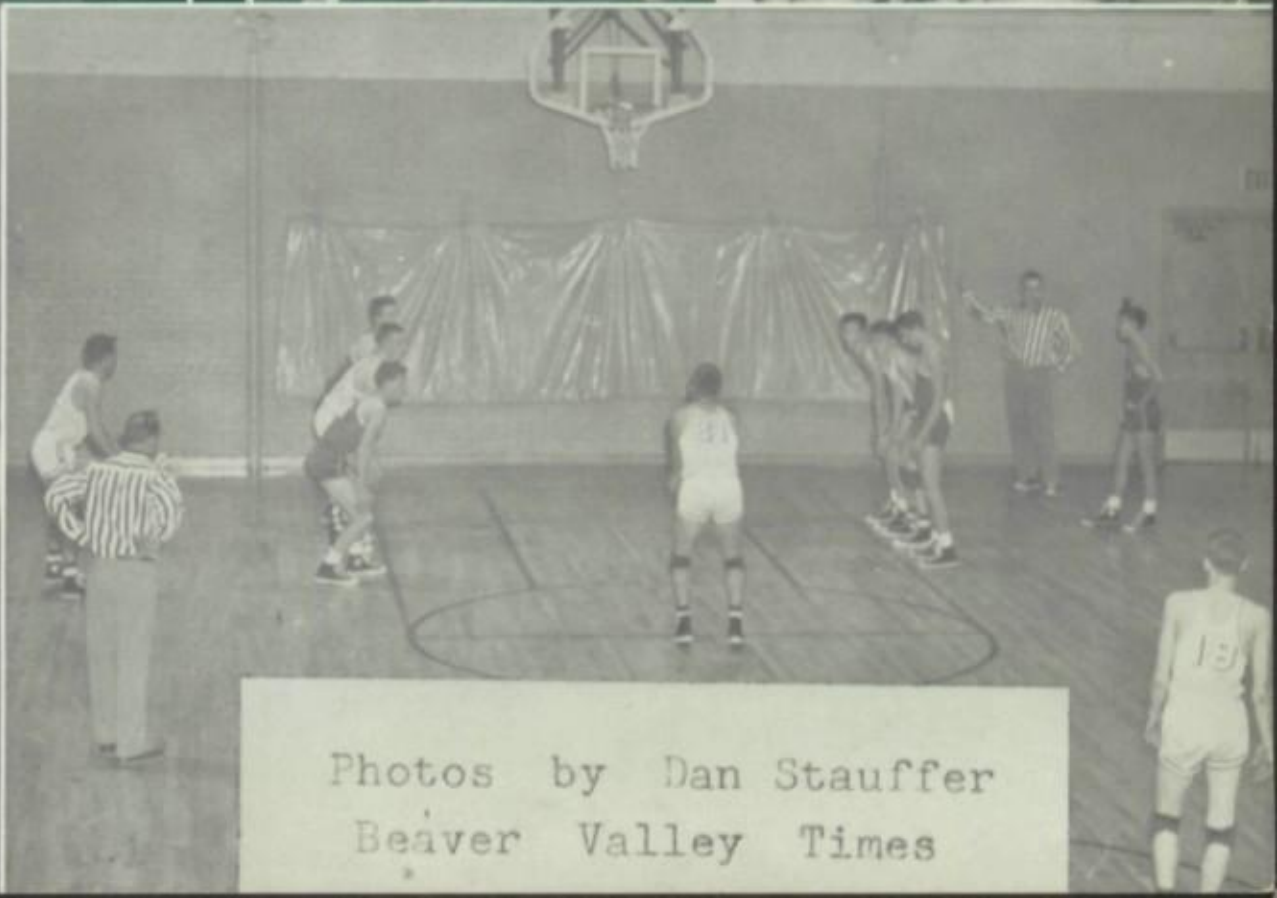

Tony Taormina, unanimously chosen by the committee, was the fourth boy in Beaver Area High School to receive the Kay Lewis Award. This trophy, an award of the Sigma Chi Fraternity, University of North Carolina, in memory of Kay Lewis (Class of 1947, Beaver High School) is presented yearly to the boy who best exemplifies true sportsmanship in his attitude and conduct, whether in varsity competition or in any of the intramural sports.

Tony, as you well remember, was active in all major sports, earning letters in football, basketball and baseball. In addition to these he found time to be an outstanding leader of the senior class as its president. He did creditable work in his academic studies. With his ever-present smile and pleasant personality Tony made friends readily and was always willing to lend a helping hand wherever needed.

Selection of the trophy winner is determined by a committee composed of the entire coaching staff of the high school, Mr. Paul Jones, representing the intramural program, Mr. Charles S. Linn, representing the administration and two senior boys who are not in athletics. The boy named receives the trophy and his name is inscribed on the plaque in the south wing trophy case. Former winners of this symbol of good sportsmanship were—Bob Richards, 1953; Kent Black, 1954; and Don Hayes, 1955. Congratulations to Tony on being chosen the 1956 winner.

Dear Mary Jane,

I'll start out in regular procedure like every one else does. I want to wish all the luck in the world to the girl who wrote in my shungas twice! You're a swell girl and I sure hope we will end up in the same room next year, but knowing my luck we won't. At least we'll probably be in some classes won't. Anyway remember all the fun we had at the St. J. Rally with our skit. I felt like a goon with Connie. I practically mauled my Anna coming out of the door. See Anna and I about regurgitated on those sloppy Joe's with carrots in them. Remember you and Marge tried to get me beside Jim, but I just wouldn't budge. Remember Beth's slumber party when MacLeary knocked down that glass shelf and it broke. Remember Larry. How could you forget it. He's really cracking up, but he's one of the nicest kids I know in our room. Never forget the Spring Hop when you and Larry had a little friendly (?) spat. That was when old cupid (me) fixed you up. (worse). Remember all the riots we had at Banteen this year, especially when Sally and I left unlawfully. I don't think you were there that night and boy! you really missed something. Remember when you liked Larry. Spooned then I liked him. I don't know how we could have now. If you ask me, he is an over sized dope. He used to follow us all over the place and walk us home on River Road. I used to like that? P P P P. Remember the time you, Larry, Kathy, Dorothy and I went to New Brighton on the bus to get records. You and I were starving to death and the other kids weren't even hungry. Then we went down to Sunny's for the sleek dinner.

Football Dance

"The Bucket is back!" That news gave an added festivity to this year's traditional dance in honor of the football team. "Gridiron Glory" was the project of the sophomore class, under the sponsorship of Mr. Rogers. It was held in the gym on the ninth of November. The class officers acted as a planning committee, selecting other students to assist in decorating, publicity, and refreshments. The decorating committee chose a vivid color scheme of red and white. The throne cast a rosy sparkle on the lovely queen, Mary Ann Karns, and her attendants, Beverly Cook and Nancy Gardner. Music was furnished by Bobby Caputo's Orchestra. "Gridiron Glory" was a perfect climax to our successful football season.

There were 200,000 entries. Karen Shannon won fourth place among high school students of the United States for her excellent penmanship and received a personalized copy of Hutchinson's "Standard Handbook for Secretaries."

The contest was sponsored by the Gregg Publishing Company, the McGraw Hill Book Company, and the magazine, "Today's Secretary," which published the Beaver Shorthand Winners in the June issue.

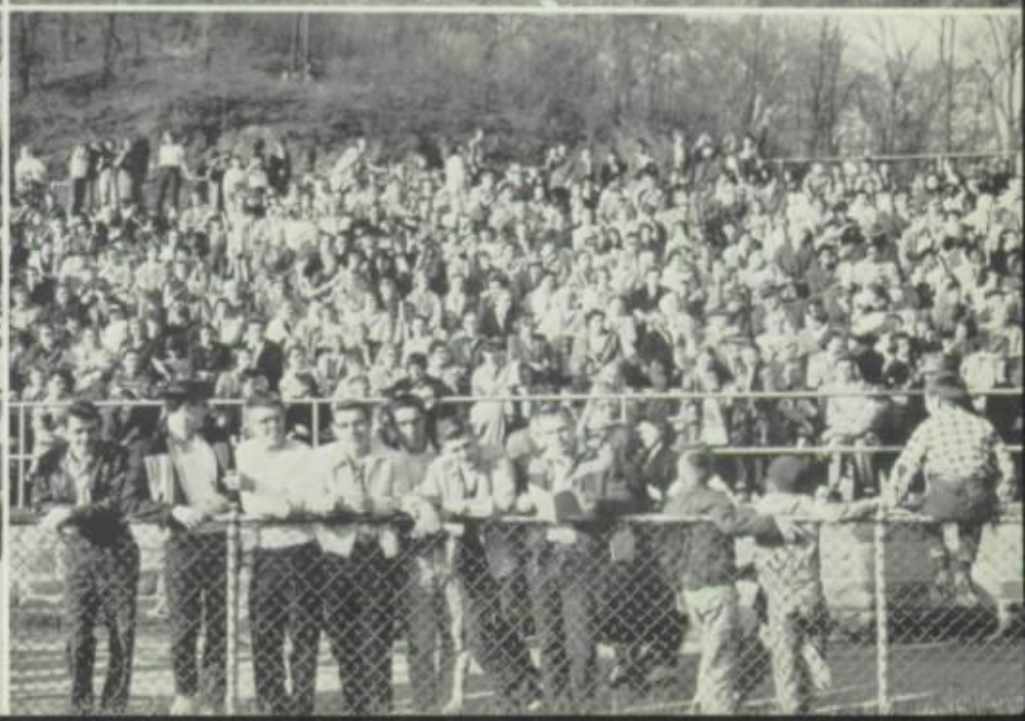

May Day

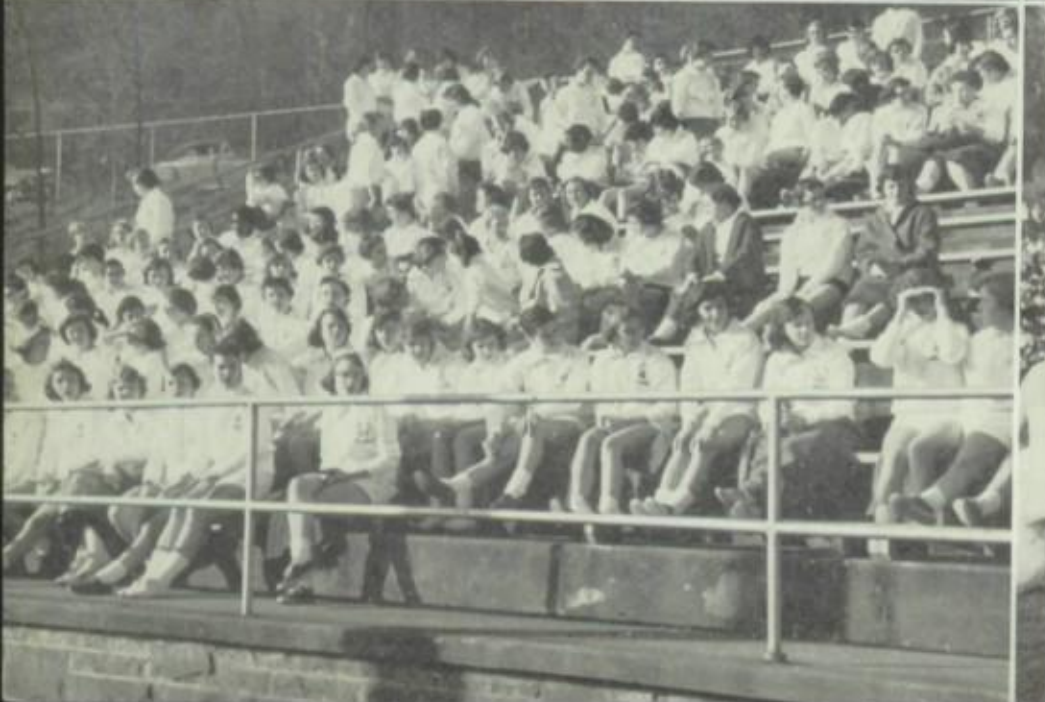

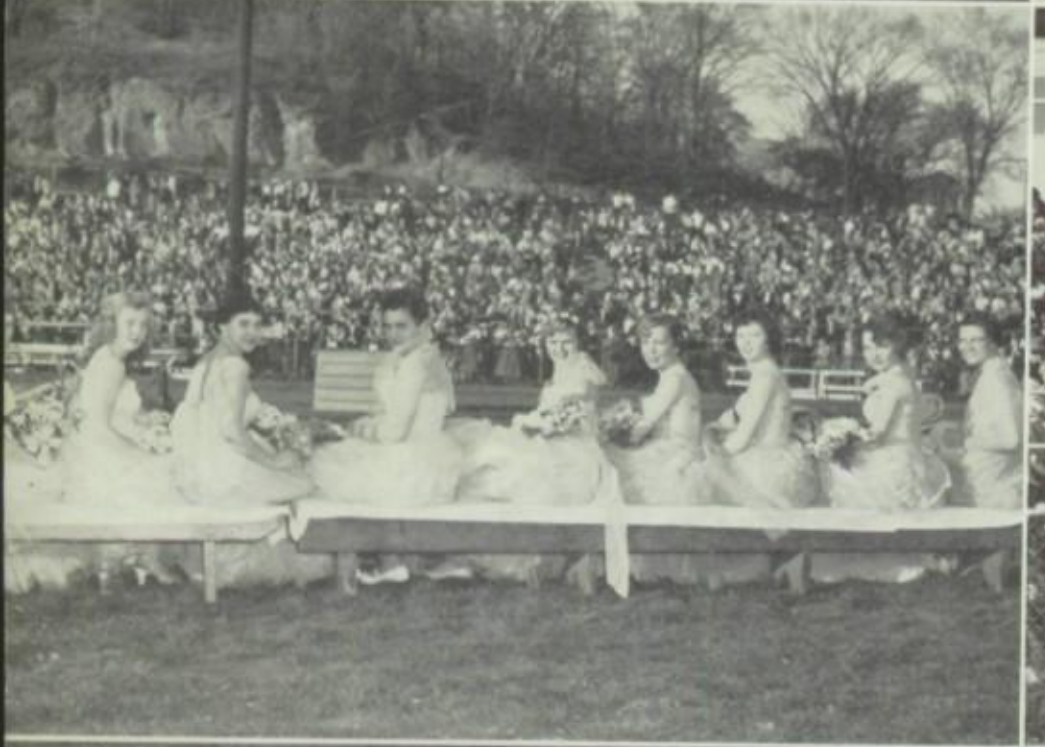

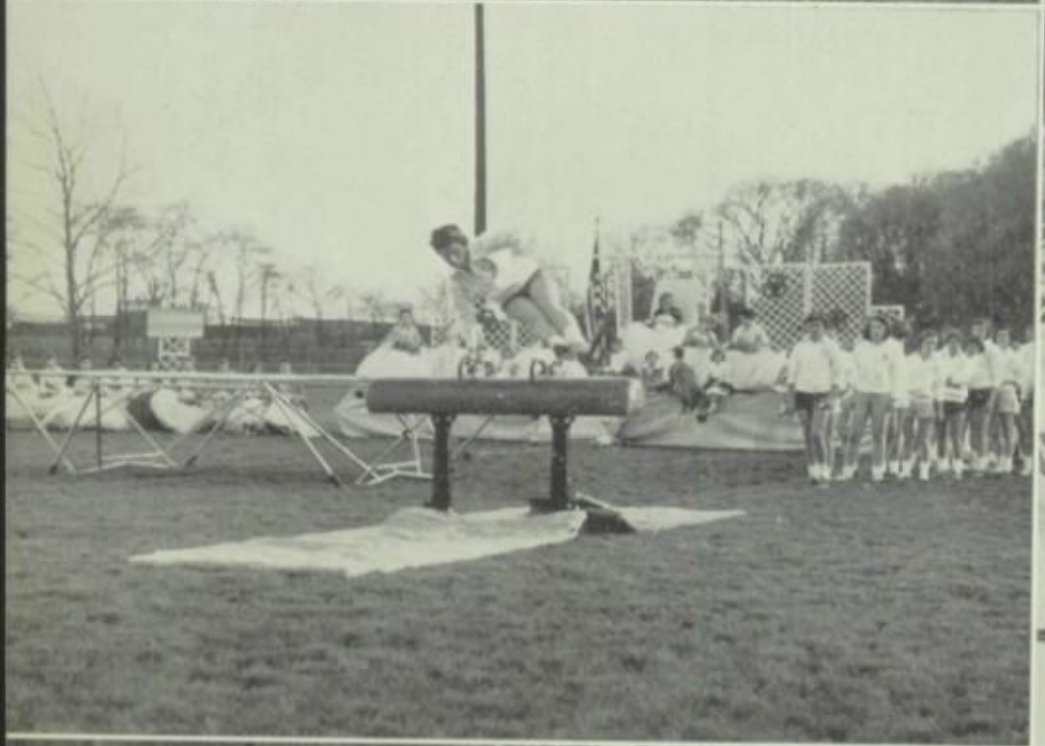

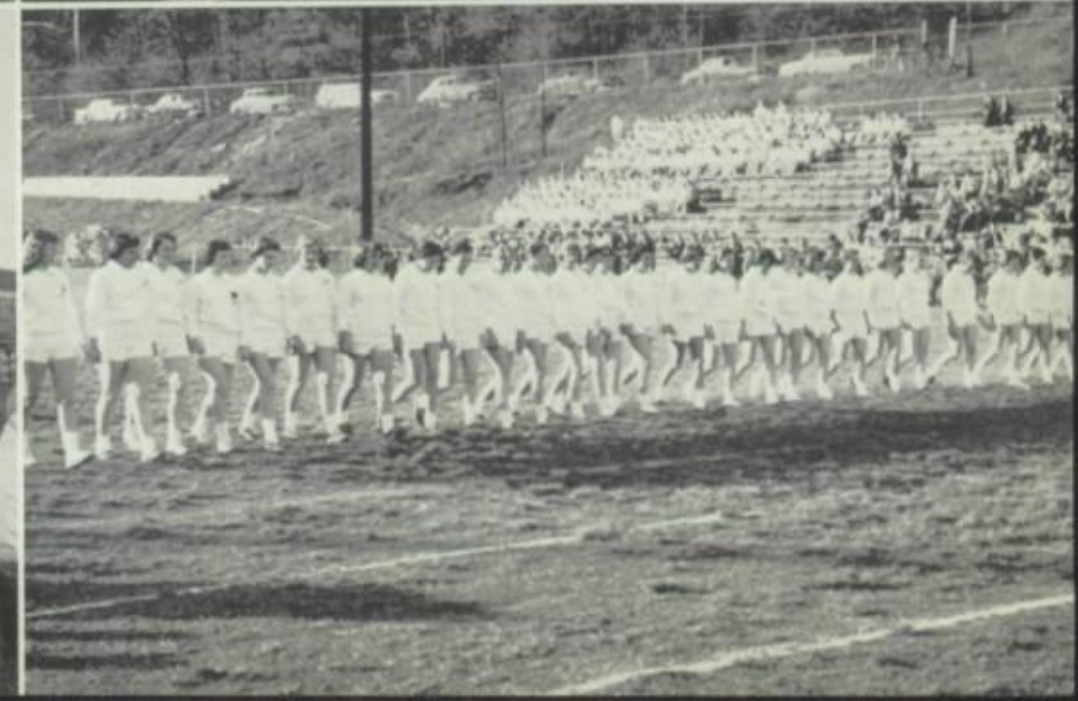

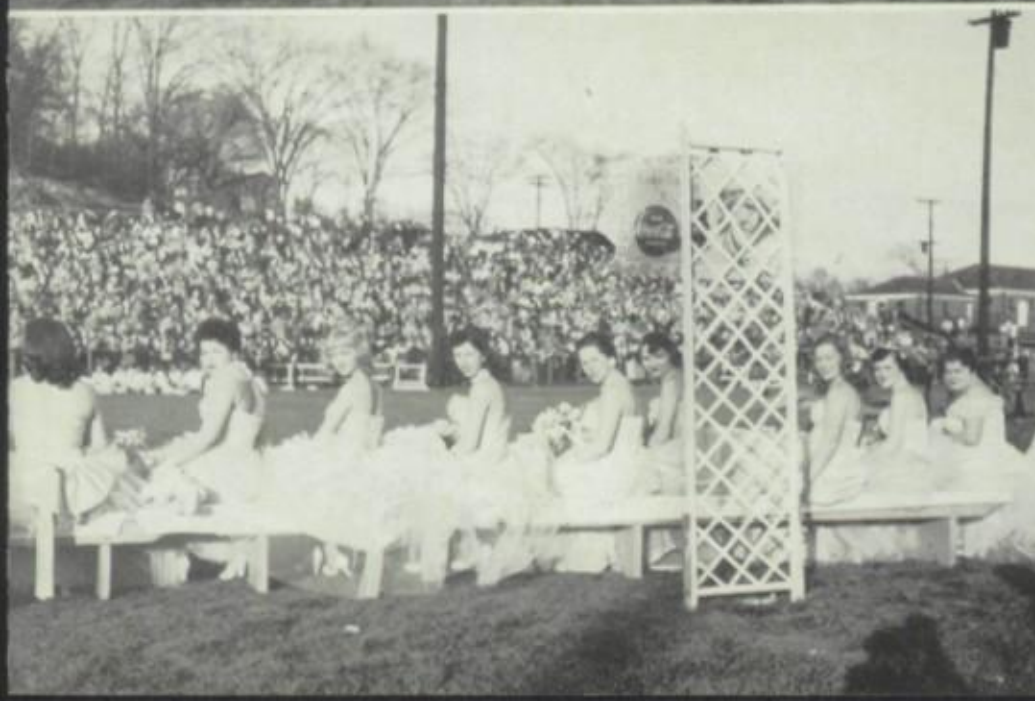

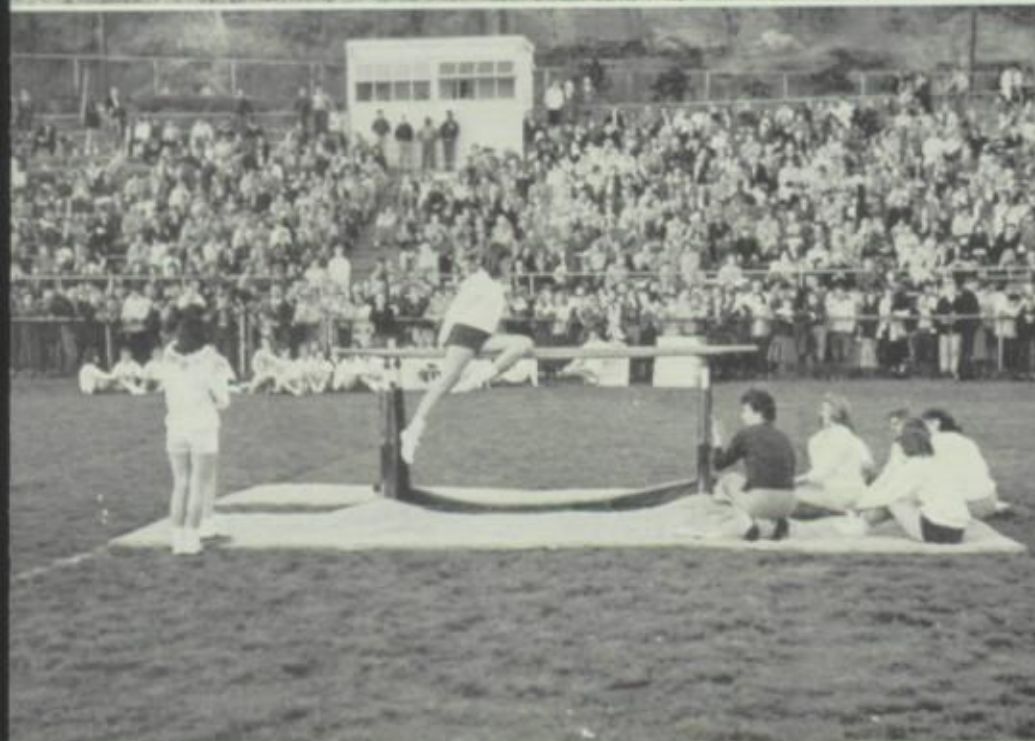

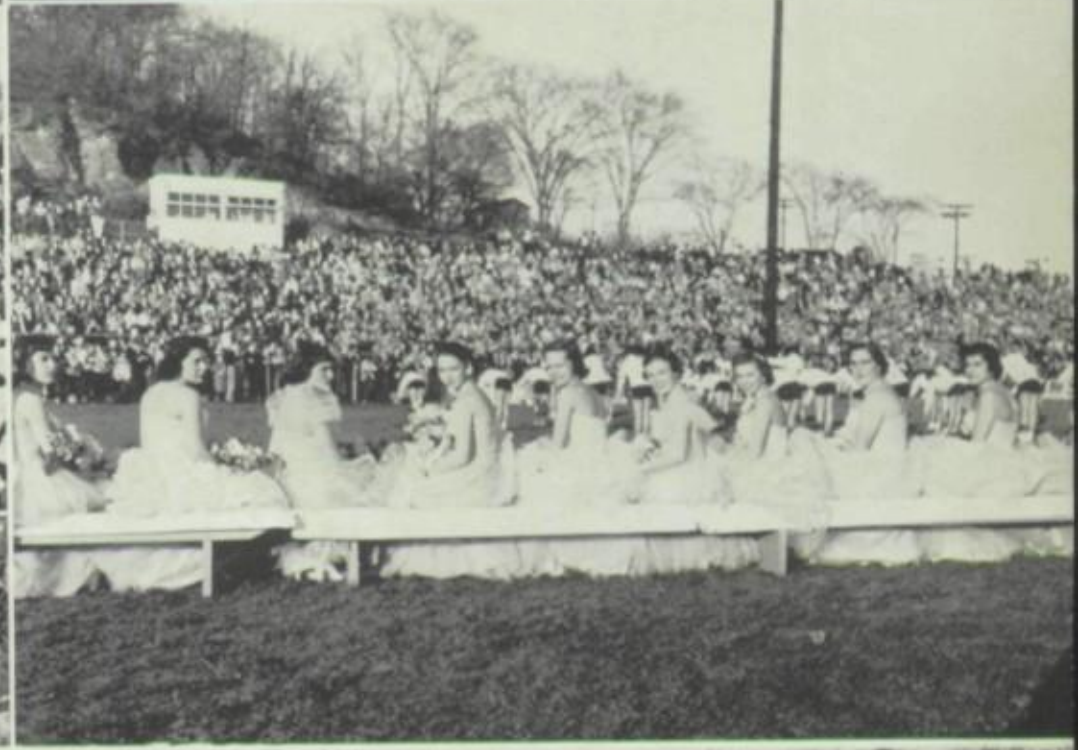

Queen Jeanne Ross

The Women's Olympics was the theme chosen by Mrs. Casteel for the 1956 May Day program. Jeanne Ross, the lovely queen, Joanne Ward, the maid of honor, and their court looked on while the girls' physical education department put on a display of free hand calisthenics. Following this were apparatus, track and field events in which the girls competed for gold medals.

The six attendants of the queen, Barbara Trimble, Jean Lengyel, Susan Cole, Judy Hollander, Sundie Catanese, and Ruth Retzer wore pastel gowns accented by cascades of yellow roses. The flower girls, Vicki Shoemaker, Mary Varley, Susie Parsons, and Sharon Schmidt scattered petals before the queen. Lynn Fisher carried the scepter and Jerry Bonnar carried the crown of red roses. Her majesty's train was held by Bobby Frey and David Mulcahy.

"Honor lies at Labor's Gate." So goes an old proverb. Those pictured above represent not only the honor group of the class of 1956 but those whose labors in school demonstrated their right to that select circle. From some, much is expected; to others, much is given. This group exemplifies both. The school has much to offer, not only to this small group, but to all students who care to accept its offerings. The family, school and community can expect much from these because they have proved by their work in the classroom that they have much to give.

We salute them for their splendid effort and accomplishments throughout their high school career.

Mid-Western District Orchestra

Beaver Area High School played host to young musicians from high schools throughout the midwestern district last February. Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Music Education Association, the festival is an annual event held in a different high school each time. Each music director is permitted to nominate as many from his organization as he feels can qualify for the orchestra. Mr. Marietta chose 13 to represent our high school. Included were: Bill Clausen, Gloria Feibus, Carol Gilleland, Darla Homesley, Pat Jordan, Janice Logan, George Moore, Dick Morrow, Dale Peters, Robert Stevenson, Jane Stevenson, Dorothy Yemm, and Aarne Vesilind.

Mr. Lawrence C. Stitt, director of the symphony orchestra at Indiana State Teachers College was invited as guest conductor. Included in the program arranged by Mr. Stitt and the member directors of P. M. E. A. were, "Amaryllis Suite"—Handel, "Didon Overture"—Puccini, and "Mississippi Suite"—Ferde Grofe.

Following registration on the first day, try-outs were conducted to determine placement in the various sections. Then came many hours of practice in preparation for the concert, yet there was also time for fun and recreation. An afternoon of bowling or movies, after which came a sumptuous banquet, relaxed the tension.

The concert, presented Saturday evening, was a decided success and proved the value of the music program of the schools as well as demonstrating the ability of the 90 young musicians. Arrangements for the festival were handled by Mr. Marietta, his staff, the Band Mothers and members of our high school music department.

"Now wait a minute! Just because I'm only a freshman!" "Where did you say the elevator was?" What a hectic year! We were the first freshman class to be shoved into the Senior High Building. Our football team chalked up a 7-2 record, but despite their heroic efforts the "Old Oaken Bucket" remained in Rochester.

Do you remember our valiant struggle to get equal rights as students of B. H. S.? A feeling of pride came over us when we saw "Freshman News" in the Echo for the first time. The Senior Class Play "Mother Was a Freshman" woke people up to the fact that there are such creatures as freshmen.

We'll never forget our freshman teachers! In Pa. History and Civics we lost Miss Kirchner only to gain a handsome young bachelor named Mr. Heckathorne. In Latin class we heard explanations of declensions, conjugations, ablative absolutes and Jimmy.

Girls in stiffly starched crinolines and their first heels towered over their partners as they waltzed amid the leftover decorations of the "March Fantasy." In no time at all we found ourselves decked out as scarecrows for the May Day theme "This is My Country."

Oh, no! Why didn't someone warn us about finals? We thought it would never be over, but June finally arrived, the end of our first year in B. H. S. See you around—Sophs!

For a while we thought we wouldn't ever have a sophomore year, but they finally finished the new addition and we became its first occupants. Remember the smell of cigars in the halls and the workmen who wandered casually in and out of dressing rooms? There were men lounging around munching sandwiches, men on ladders outside the windows, and men whistling "Honey Babe" in the halls. The building really looked beautiful when they got finished—so much space!

During football season we contributed three new majorettes, Bev, Dap, and Linda, to the band. The end of the season brought us our first big project—the Football Dance. With Mr. Rodgers' help we organized committees and got to work. Remember the last-minute panic when we ran out of crepe paper? We passed the hat around, made a quick trip to the Five and Ten, and when we finished, we were sure it was the most beautiful dance we had ever seen. Nancy Turner certainly made a beautiful queen, anyway.

Lots of pep and lots of steam were really needed for cheerleading try-outs. Most of us just got stiff muscles out of it, but Betty, Diane, and Bev became our sophomore cheerleaders. They really proved to be good choices, too.

Remember the storm that was roused by the opening of the cafeteria? We were absolutely horrified at the thought of staying in school all day and eating in 25 minutes! The 3:15 dismissal helped to smooth our ruffled feathers. Once the system got into operation, everyone tried to think of an original criticism of it. We heard that there was not enough food, that there was too much food to eat in twenty-five minutes, and that the food was just plain lousy. The only thing that we all agreed on was that the cafeteria just "had to go."

One thing about it, though, it certainly developed some fast runners. Some of the teachers struggled heroically to stem the tide, but the more reasonable ones bowed to the force of nature and led the charge themselves.

The senior dance was our first formal and we danced in the enchanted world of Toyland. Building blocks, toy drums, and baby dolls gave an under-the-Christmas tree atmosphere to the gym.

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen. Lend me your ears." By the time we heard those words for what seemed like the fiftieth time we could see why they stabbed Caesar. He was resurrected again for the Roman Banquet, along with Pompey, Augustus, Cleopatra, and many others. As aristocratic sophomores we lounged in comfort while the freshman "slaves" served us an authentic Roman meal, from eggs to apples. Everything from white sheets to red velvet draperies went into our costumes and Julius himself couldn't have asked for a more patrician-looking crowd.

The prom was a cotillion held in a flower-filled plantation garden. We were pretty bleary-eyed the next day, but that didn't take anything away from the thrill of our first prom.

Wonder what it feels like to be an upper classman? It won't be long before we find out.

JUNIOR YEAR

Football seemed more exciting than ever, our junior year. Our boys finally got a chance to do something besides just warming the bench. We were proud of all of them, especially "Mighty Mite" Fred Bruce. Then there was the night the field lights grew dim and went out, leaving the stadium in darkness. Suddenly we saw a brilliant array of red, white, and blue lights and we heard the strains of Glenn Miller's beloved "Moonlight Serenade." With a band as good as our football team, we had an unbeatable combination.

The magazine sale gave us a chance to prove that our class could get together and make a big success of a project. We met the challenge and set out, as Mrs. Hokman said, "to cover the town of Beaver like dew." After the doorbell-ringing, the bookkeeping, and the additions were finished, we discovered that our determination had paid off. We reached our goal and beat the $6000 record of the class of '56.

As upperclassmen we came to know some of the teachers who had been legendary figures to us. Up in "Nevin's Heaven" we learned that there are literally hundreds of ways to cause an explosion, as well as countless methods of cutting, burning, scalding and poisoning yourself. When Mr. Ledebur found himself facing us again, he had to be reminded pretty often that, "the quality of mercy is not strained."

Before long we were seeing even more of Mr. Ledebur, as he directed our class play, "Books and Crooks." Jons Olson gave a very convincing performance as a school principal and his double, a criminal mastermind. Sam Marcus was hilarious as his stupid side-kick, masquerading as Mister Brown of the Board of Education. As rehearsals went on, we were surprised to find that there really was acting talent in our class. Meanwhile, the prop committee lived in constant fear of losing the key to the handcuffs. Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when they were safely returned to the Beaver Police and we didn't have to return any of the cast members with them.

The high point of our junior year was our wonderful prom, "Silhouette in Silver." At first it didn't seem too wonderful. There was that enormous piece of blue cheesecloth that must have been called a "collapsible ceiling" because it certainly collapsed if you so much as looked cross-eyed at it. After we finally got it anchored down, or rather anchored up, things started to look better. When the big night arrived, our setting with its myriad of tiny silver stars, soft lights, and picturesque Roman garden, looked like the background for a dream.

"Why don't they do something about May Day?" Every year the same stupid thing!! People have been saying that for a long time, so last year Miss Wain decided she would do something about it. The Olympic theme gave us a May Day that was refreshingly different. There was a strong element of suspense in it, too. Look out! She's going to break her neck! No, there she goes. Cheer up, girls. Next year we'll be seniors and we can just stand around and watch.

SENIOR YEAR

We have heard people say, "Your senior year is wonderful" for so long that we were almost surprised to find out that it really is exciting to be a senior. Suddenly everyone seemed so interested in us, and our plans for the future. So many of the things that happened gave us an added thrill because it was the 'last time'.

Our football team chalked up an impressive 7-2 record and finished the season spectacularly by bringing home the 'Old Oaken Bucket'. 'Grid-iron Glory' was a good name for the dance that climaxed that most successful of seasons. Mary Ann Karns reigned as football queen, in a realm of brilliant red and white.

The candy sale added another successful project to our record. In spite of diets, our sales zoomed and we actually tripled our goal. On delivery day, the cafeteria was deluged by what looked like mountains of candy. It disappeared quickly though, leaving us with a clear profit of $1,186.00.

Christmas vacation finally arrived, giving us ten days of riotous living. Someone in our class must have eaten too much plum pudding and had a nightmare about sharks and octopuses, because when we got back to school, everyone was ocean-minded. As the weeks went by, we heard bubbles over the P.A. System, saw yarn octopuses in study hall, and heard people whispering about anchors and treasure chests. All this, of course, was in preparation for the Senior Dance, "Sea Fantasy." There were many suggestions for decorations, including the brilliant one—"Why don't we just flood the gym and let everyone come in diving suits?" After we finished decorating, we could almost believe we were dancing on the ocean bottom. Everything was there but the water—even the ruins of Atlantis (where have I seen those white columns before?)

While this was going on, we began work on the class play, "Curtain Going Up." Tryouts had us scared. Much to our relief, we found that the play was not quite as unusual as we anticipated. It was fun acting in a play about a play, though, because we acted on a bare stage and used the auditorium as if it were part of the stage.

The most surprising event of the year happened one morning in February. All of a sudden we heard an announcement telling us to get up and go home. At first we almost fainted but no one was going to stay around for fear they might change their minds, so out we went. Seems like the "mad bomber" was at work even in Beaver!

From then on the year was crowded with "last things." We will never forget the beautiful prom, the fun of being seniors in May Day, and the ancient Greek N.H.S. Assembly. (they used the white columns, too!)

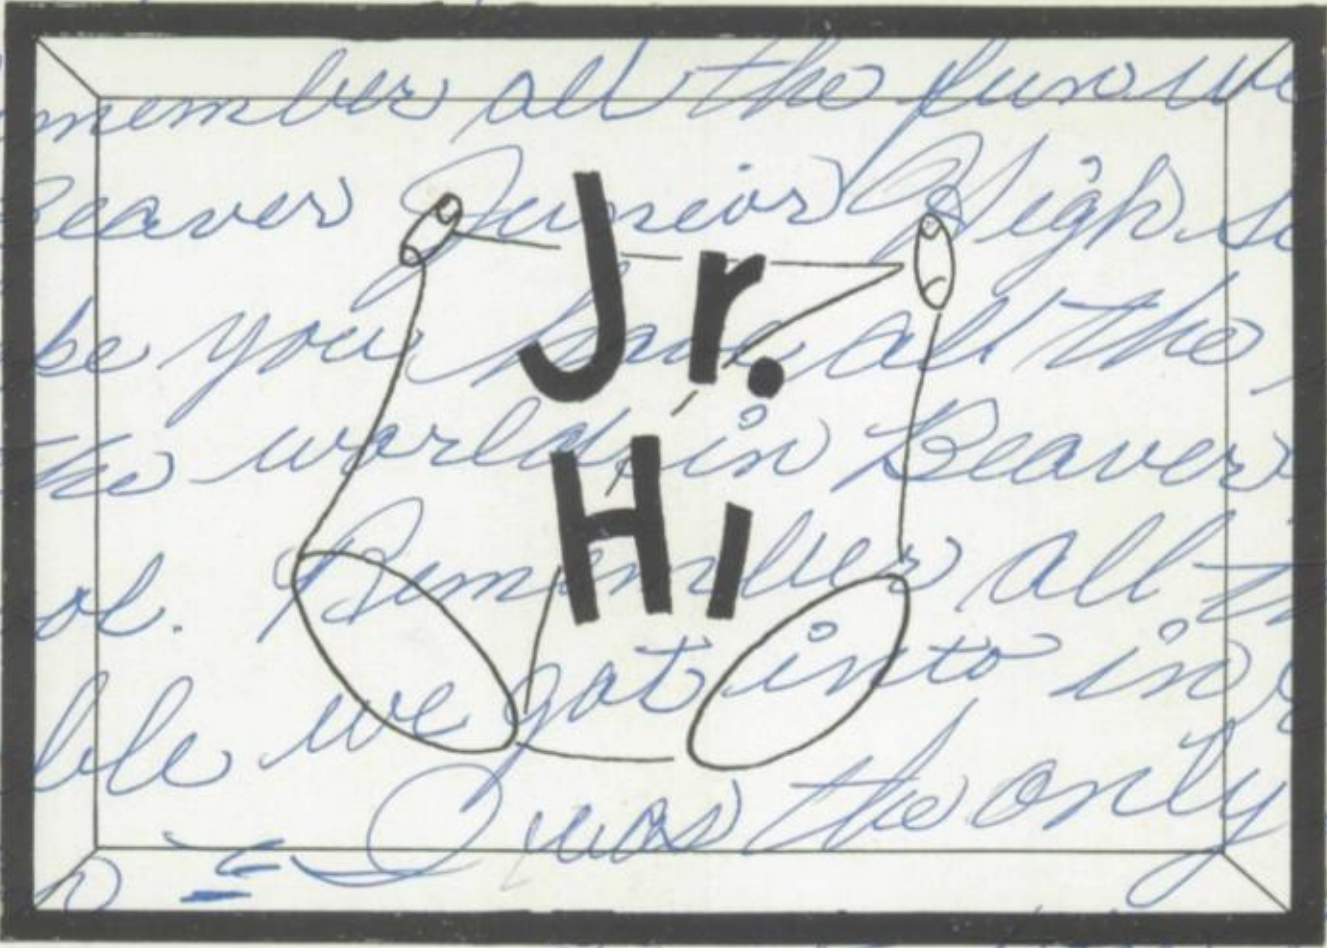

Before we know it, it was Senior Day, and then came Baccalaureate and commencement. At the risk of sounding just like everyone else, we can only say, "Our senior year was wonderful!"

Our thanks are expressed to Mr. Charlesworth and his faculty for their part preparing the seventh and eighth grade students for their later years in high school. While we see little of the junior high school after we leave those grades we know that the faculty and administration are still there doing their best with those who follow us.

Frank Davis, Clif McConaughy—Custodians

May we express our thanks to Clif and Frank for their hard work in trying to keep our high school so clean. We realize it is no easy task sweeping and dusting and otherwise taking care of the building after some eight hundred kids have had their day in school. So long and good luck in the future.
